CLIMATE CRISIS and MILITARISM PROJECT

<https://www.veteransforpeace.org/take-action/climatecrisis>

Why: As the climate crisis worsens and the US military's budget approaches $1+ trillion dollars the impetus intensifies for climate, environmental and peace groups to abandon their individual silos of influence and come together and voice their collective outrage with a single, coordinated focus. Protesting military air shows provides just the opportunity to engage these stakeholders in the broader conversation concerning the U.S. military's enormous contribution TO the climate crisis as well as the tremendous financial burden burgeoning militarism causes

SATURDAY morning will include performance of
IDEAL MAINE SOCIAL AID and SANCTUARY BAND
